The Callaway Good Life Center in Callaway is celebrating their 5 year anniversary on November 1st

In the summer of 2012, Good Samaritan Society decided that they would be closing our doors. There was a special meeting with the community to inform them of the decision. Within the 2 days following the meeting, the community raised enough money for us to remain open under RHD management. On November 1, 2012 we re-opened as Callaway Good Life Center. Since then our facility has remained open with lots of support from our community and surrounding communities as well.

Every month through November we will be having something to show our appreciation for the tremendous support over the last 5 years. They had an ice cream social for the community to thank them for their support in keeping the facility open. In April had hot dogs, chips, and dessert on the front lawn. They are also planning having cookies and coffee, breakfast foods, root beer floats and purple cows, watermelon feed and a popcorn day and to celebrate our 5 year anniversary we will be having a soup supper with live band.
