CDM® | CFPP® | Certified Dietary Manager
Certified Food Protection Professional

As the national professional organization representing and serving nutrition and foodservice professionals, the Association of Nutrition & Foodservice Professionals (ANFP) is here to serve you in your career path.

The Certified Dietary Manager (CDM) Certification program is one of the most popular benefits of membership in ANFP. By earning your CDM certification, you will join the top levels of nutrition and foodservice managers in the field. It can advance your career and open many new opportunities for employment!

Certified Dietary Manager, Certified Food Protection Professionals (CDM, CFPPs) are nationally recognized experts at managing foodservice operations. Many work in healthcare—nursing facilities, rehab centers, senior living communities, or hospitals. Some work in correctional facilities, schools, and the military. Others work for corporations.

Certified Dietary Managers are trained and qualified to manage menus, food purchasing, and food preparation; and to apply nutrition principles, document nutrition information, ensure food safety, manage work teams, and much more. In the latest regulations issued by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), the Certified Dietary Manager, Certified Food Protection Professional (CDM, CFPP) credential is now listed as the primary qualification for the Director of Food and Nutrition Services in long-term care facilities, in the absence of a full-time dietitian.

Working conditions may include varied hours, long days, and juggling multiple demands. Certified Dietary Managers work with both people and paperwork. They tend to be energetic, results-oriented problem-solvers who thrive on challenge and enjoy teamwork. Employment in foodservice is not dependent on economic conditions, and is growing steadily. The fastest-growing segment of the market is senior living, an area where the skills of Certified Dietary Managers are just what the doctor ordered!

How to Become a CDM, CFPP

A Certified Dietary Manager, Certified Food Protection Professional (CDM, CFPP) has the education, training, and experience to competently perform the responsibilities of a dietary manager and has proven this by passing a nationally-recognized credentialing exam and fulfilling the requirements needed to maintain certified status. The CDM, CFPP also demonstrates specific competency in the area of food protection and sanitation.

Some managers ask: If I've completed a foodservice manager training program, am I already a CDM, CFPP? The answer is no. Keep going! To earn the credential, you need to follow three steps:

1. Qualify to take the CDM, CFPP Certification Exam.

There are five ways to qualify! You may start by completing an ANFP-approved foodservice manager training program. Or, you may already have a two-year or four-year degree in foodservice management, nutrition, or culinary arts. You may qualify through a combination of training and experience. Or, you may qualify through your related military training. Details about how to qualify are on the CBDM website at www.CBDMonline.org/eligibility.

Not sure about whether you qualify? Please call ANFP at 800.323.1908.

2. Register for the Certification Exam.

Offered year-round, at over 300 sites, the exam gives you the opportunity to prove your competency in the marketplace by earning the CDM, CFPP credential.

We invite you to review detailed information and download an Candidate Handbook and Application.

3. Pass the exam and complete your certification process.

Once you have passed the exam, you can apply for certified status. (Certification will be automatic if you are already a current member of ANFP. However, membership in ANFP is not required.) If you have not already joined ANFP, you will receive an invitation to join and enjoy the many member benefits the association offers to you as a professional.

Once you earn the credential, you will also need to maintain it by meeting continuing education requirements and paying your annual certification fee.

The CDM, CFPP is more than the letters after your name. It's a career path that demonstrates your commitment to excellence in nutrition and foodservice management, and defines you as a highly qualified professional in your field.

Should You Become a CDM? Yes!

If you are already working in foodservice management you may wonder: Why earn the credential? The fact is: Those with the nationally-recognized CDM, CFPP credential are in demand due to regulatory requirements (vary by state). And...the credential translates into earning power! CDM, CFPPs earn more money than nutrition and foodservice professionals who are not certified.
