As President John F. Kennedy said, “Ask not what your country can do for you, but what can you do for your country?”. We can apply this to our families, our employer, our community and our ANFP Chapter.

Let’s get out of our protective shells and rebound as never before! Get a new prospective on Life and what our role is as CDM, CFPP’s means in our facilities, communities and CHAPTERS!

Realizing Your Worth

By JoyceAnn Jones (Joy), BA, ME, Retired DM, FPP

Spring has sprung and it is time to renew—
Time to acknowledge the value of the work you do.
Appreciate yourself and your sacrifice-
Helping the lives of others be more nice.

Be thankful you are so capable
Through your training others to enable.
So, they like you can help and care—
With heartfelt dedication, oh so rare.

To positively shift your attitude—
Greet each day with gratitude.
Continue your good with head held high—
Knowing upon you others rely.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Hello North Carolina,

Its been an interesting winter to say the least and most of you should be opening back as the state rolls back restrictions. Our Healthcare Center just got authorization to remove masks last week and there was literally dancing in the street! Along with the newfound freedoms are more responsibilities for our departments, I know that's tough when we are still having a hard time getting good employees to come back into our communities to work. We have had better luck here in the triad, and I hope you are as well. I will post any openings you need me to or send out your needs in an email blast.

As we move into this new year, I would like to ask for your help in continuing our chapter of the ANFP. It has been a struggle the last couple of years. We have openings on the board that you need to vote for; we need some of you to volunteer to serve on the board. It's a fun and rewarding way to support your state chapter; our chapter could really use some help. Just email me if you would be willing to run/serve on the board. We can talk about open positions and what that would entail. To have a wonderful fall meeting would be special. Where would you like it to be this year? Do you want the coast, mountains or middle of state? My email is jburdette@riverlandingsr.org. I would love to hear from you. Please help to make our chapter viable and healthy after Covid. It would be devastating to see it decline from lack of participation, and you are the only ones that can help with that. Its your chapter people! Let's wake it up this year!! I will probably go to the SC Spring Meeting and hope to see you there. If I am not there, I will be having inspection. In case I am not there, email all your suggestions to me.

You work hard, I know and I appreciate all you do.

Joseph Burdette
President, NC ANFP

NEW FOOD CODE ALERT

Are you up to date on the new FOOD CODE? Inspection time is rolling around for many healthcare facilities. You will want to have the answers to questions you may be asked. Also, you will want your department to be up to code and your staff knowledgeable about the Code. Need a copy? Go to the ANFP home page and you will find information on how to get a copy.
