New Year, New Beginnings

As we finish what has been for most of us a year of extreme challenges, stress, and loss, and look forward to a renewed sense of hope, peace and health, I am reminded of the 1959 show tune from Rodgers and Hammerstein soundtrack, The Sound of Music: "My Favorite Things". Here is my interpretation "A.N.F.P. style" to help us remember our accomplishments and continue to grow and move our organization forward in the new year ahead with renewed strength, inspiration and anticipation. Go ahead and hum the tune.....

"Food drives and laughter and speakers with passion, Networking, planning and ANFP clothing fashions,

Committees that march with the sound of a drum, Destination conference learning, packed with some fun,

A.N.F.P. highlighted with red & black letters, Mary Jane's centerpieces, remind us of days better sanitation facts, survey readiness new rules, policies, procedures and new knowledge tools,

When COVID hits, and the new cook quits, when we feel such doom, our dedication shows, perseverance still grows, and our passion still blooms,

A residents smile, uplifting us daily; Caring for our seniors, nutritional planning, we're not failing, nurse managers shouting & dining aide pouting, these are a few of our favorite things,

When this year ends; and we make amends, we will laugh and smile, we coped, overcame & drank some champagne and felt pretty good for a while, supplements stocked too high on shelves, no cook on the schedule, we cook breakfast ourselves the blender stopped working, floor drains overflowing, these are a few more of our favorite things,

When the clock strikes and the cook fights with a broken oven door, we simply remember our freezer leftovers and then it don't seem so bad,

Catching up on old times, meet new friends over wine, new foods we will dine,

Our vendors we'll greet us, COVID didn't beat us, these are our memories in time we'll never forget how we've adapted and grown, perseverance, compassion: are our seeds we sow, leaders much stronger, we'll get a reprieve, A.N.F.P.our trademark, with hearts on our sleeves, Wiping our brow, looking back now, on our 2020 legacy, Accomplishments, amazing feats, tears and defeats, we are A.N.F.P.!

Peace, love and healing to you in the new year,

Rick Eggert, President Elect

I hope everyone has a wonderful and safe holiday season!

Now we have a short time to catch our breath and look to the first week of February. The first Sunday in February you ask? What's so special about the first week in February? It's not a holiday. Well, in a matter of speaking it is a bit of a holiday as it is "Pride in Food Service Week. FEBRUARY 1-5, 2021, Pride in Foodservice Week celebrates the nutrition and foodservice professionals and other members of the nutrition services team for their hard work and dedication on the job. Visit www.ANFPonline.org/PIFSW to learn how to participate! February 1-5, 2021 is designated Pride in Foodservice Week by the Association of Nutrition & Foodservice Professionals (ANFP). This week applauds nutrition and foodservice professionals and other members of the nutrition services team like YOU for your hard work and dedication on the job. In its 30th year, Pride in Foodservice Week will be celebrated in facilities across the country in various ways. Spread awareness of this special week by posting this flyer in a prominent spot in your department, cafeteria, or dining room! The flyer can be found at this link; <https://www.anfponline.org/docs/default-source/legacy-docs/docs/pride-in-foodservice-week/pifsw-2021-flyer.pdf>. Copy and past the link to your browser. Then, brainstorm celebration ideas! Please send a short article to the newsletter to share with your fellow CDM's what you did this year to recognize your staff during this unprecedented time of COVID.

Sunday, February 7, 2021 is the biggest sports holiday of the year! It's what we have come to know as the Super Bowl or the Big Game! Many of you do special Super Bowl parties for your residents. Share with your fellow Dietary Managers what you do in your home that is enjoyed so much by your residents. Send me your Super Bowl news and photos. I will get it in the newsletter.

Then, following the Super Bowl, there is Valentine's Day on Thursday, Feb. 14th. I know most of you do special things in your home for the residents, even if it doesn't involve food. Please share it with us. Inquiring minds want to know!

Take Care, My Friends! Happy Holidays!!..... and Stay Healthy and Safe!!!

The 30th Annual Pride in Foodservice Week is February 1-5, 2021!

Pride in Foodservice Week is coming up! ANFP will celebrate our 30th annual Pride in Foodservice Week February 1-5, 2021. This is an important year to recognize your staff – we know that the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic has changed the way your facilities operate. Let your foodservice team know how appreciated they are!

Participating in Pride in Foodservice Week could earn you and your team a number of different prizes! Please continue to check this webpage for more details as PIFSW gets closer. We are looking forward to seeing all of the innovative ways you celebrate!

As a reminder, Pride in Foodservice Week is celebrated in February each year. It is separate from Healthcare Foodservice Workers Week, which is set aside by the Association for Healthcare Foodservice each October. We hope you will enjoy both celebrations, and we can't wait for you to showcase your pride this February!
