St. Charles, IL – The Association of Nutrition & Foodservice Professionals (ANFP) will celebrate its seventh annual Member Appreciation Week April 4-8, 2022.

Member Appreciation Week celebrates the more than 15,000 members of ANFP, who work to drive our mission of positioning the Certified Dietary Manager, Certified Food Protection Professional (CDM, CFPP) as the expert in foodservice management and safety.

This year's Member Appreciation Week festivities include greetings from various ANFP Boards and committees, giveaways, opportunities for free continuing education, and a week-long online course and merchandise sale.

Additionally, ANFP will be embracing virtual education with a cooking demo held jointly with the American Culinary Federation.

Visit www.ANFPonline.org/maw or our social media platforms from April 4-8 to join in the celebration.

ANFP is a national not-for-profit association established in 1960 that represents more than 15,000 professional members dedicated to the mission of providing optimum nutritional care through nutrition and foodservice management. ANFP members work in hospitals, long-term care facilities, correctional facilities and other non-commercial food settings.
