St. Charles, IL - The Association of Nutrition & Foodservice Professionals (ANFP) will host its 2024 Spring Regional Meeting later this week in Cleveland, OH. Attendees will gather April 18-19, and will have the opportunity to earn up to nine continuing education (CE) hours.

This year's meeting brings a change from the typical ANFP Regional Meeting format. Instead of a hotel venue, the meeting will take place at the Hospitality Management Center at Cuyahoga Community College, which allows for a more hands-on meeting approach.

Sessions range from traditional panel discussions to leadership training to hands-on culinary demonstrations. Attendees will also have the opportunity to network with a variety of vendors at the expo on Friday, April 19.

The next ANFP live meeting is the Annual Conference & Expo (ACE), which will take place June 10-13 in Reno, NV.
