Certifying Board for Dietary Managers Receives Re-Accreditation of its CDM Certification Program from the National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA)

WASHINGTON (12/5/19)—The NCCA re-accredited the Certifying Board for Dietary Managers (CBDM) CDM Certification Program for a five-year period, expiring March 31, 2025 during its recent meeting.

Founded in 1985, CBDM, is a professional certification organization acting in the public interest by establishing and enforcing education, examination, experience and ethics requirements for certification. Currently, 12,572 are certified to use the CDM, CFPP designation. The CDM Certification Program first received NCCA accreditation in 1989.

CBDM received renewal of NCCA accreditation of its CDM Certification Program by submitting an application demonstrating the program's compliance with the NCCA's Standards for the Accreditation of Certification Programs. NCCA is the accrediting body of the Institute for Credentialing Excellence (formerly the National Organization for Competency Assurance). Since 1977, the NCCA has been accrediting certifying programs based on the highest quality standards in professional certification to ensure the programs adhere to modern standards of practice in the certification industry. There are more than 315 NCCA accredited programs that certify individuals in a wide range of professions and occupations including nurses, financial professionals, respiratory therapists, counselors, emergency technicians, crane operators and more. Of ICE's more than 370 organizational members, 130 of them have accredited programs.

ICE's mission is to advance credentialing through education, standards, research, and advocacy to ensure competence across professions and occupations. NCCA was founded as a commission whose mission is to help ensure the health, welfare, and safety of the public through the accreditation of a variety of certification programs that assess professional competence. NCCA uses a peer review process to: establish accreditation standards; evaluate compliance with these standards; recognize organizations/programs which demonstrate compliance; and serve as a resource on quality certification.

ICE and NCCA are located at 2025 M Street, N.W., Suite 800, Washington, DC 20036-3309; telephone 202/367-1165; fax 202/367-2165.
